Why are my PSAT Scores Important?

Deciphering your PSAT 10 Score Your PSAT scores tell you:

- 1. What you know
- 2. What you need to work on to be successful for the SAT and, eventually, in college

Your PSAT scores are used to predict your future SAT scores

Your Score Report

Your Online Score Portal

Deciphering your PSAT 10 Score How to See Your Test Questions, Answers, and Results

By using the PSAT Portal, you can see each individual question on the PSAT, your answer, the correct answer, and the answer explanation.

To find this section, click on the "Test Questions" tab at the top of the portal page

Khan Academy

Khan Academy is a free online tool that uses your PSAT information to provide you with free personalized practice for the PSAT/NMSQT and SAT

Steps for Linking Student Accounts

Step 1: Visit satpractice.org.

This is where students can log in or create a Khan Academy account.

Step 2: Link accounts.

When prompted, students must agree to link their Khan Academy and College Board accounts.

Step 3: Send test results.

Students must sign in or create an account at collegeboard.org and click "Send" to send their scores to Khan Academy for a personalized practice plan.

What Can I Do to Improve My PSAT Scores?

- Review your portal to find out what you need to improve
- Read the questions you answered incorrectly to try and understand the skill in the future
- Use Khan Academy to take practice tests and review important skills
- Review test taking strategies
